Mayor Lunn and the organization leaders were arrayed for hostilities prior to the conference because of the appointment by Fresident Wilson of Frank Cooper, of Schenectady, to the position of Frank Cooper, of Schenectady, to the position of Frank Cooper, of Schenectady, to the position of Federal district judge for northern New York. Mr. Cooper was suggested by Mayor Lunn. The organization had three candidates for the place, and such prominent leaders as Norman E. Mack. national committeeman; Chairman Farley, Judge Abram I. Elkus, Joe Murphy, Tammany leader of Troy, and others, had interceded, some of them in person at Washington, for the appointment of one of their men. The action of the President was considered a direct snub to the New York organization. The leaders in the conference passed the snub back. Some of the delegates expressed the belief that the chief reason for calling the conference was to afford the organization.
